

Misting Kit Advice Sheet

It is imperative to ensure that only potable (drinking quality) water is used for mist cooling systems.

Before each use, it is strongly recommended that the system is drained of any residual water that may have remained in the hose and misting tube.

These steps will help avoid the possible risk of respiratory related illnesses from water vapour borne bacteria (such as legionella).

INST-FMK 11/2008

Misting Kit Advice Sheet

It is imperative to ensure that only potable (drinking quality) water is used for mist cooling systems.

Before each use, it is strongly recommended that the system is drained of any residual water that may have remained in the hose and misting tube.

These steps will help avoid the possible risk of respiratory related illnesses from water vapour borne bacteria (such as legionella).

INST-FMK 11/2008